Mary's Help Hospital Staff Layoffs Total 130

The staff at Mary's Help Hospital in Daly City has been reduced by about 130 persons in the wake of a strike by physicians, surgeons and anesthesiologists.

About half of the hospital's 355 doctors have been affected by the boycott.

The hospital has stopped performing elective surgery. Only emergency and obstetric cases are being handled, a spokesman for the facility said Monday.

All of this comes as a result of a Bay Area-wide strike by physicians and anesthesiologists caused by big increases in malpractice insurance premiums.

Most of the employes involved in the Mary's Help layoffs are said to be part-time or temporary personnel.

Other employes are reportedly taking vacation time off.

The hospital, the one San Mateo County hospital most affected by the strike since so many of its staff are insured through San Francisco, was said to be about 66 per cent full over the past weekend.

Fifteen emergency operations have been performed at Mary's Help since the boycott began last week.

Other hospitals in this county were to be affected on Tuesday when Northern California anesthesiologists mass together in Sacramento.

They were scheduled to demonstrate there against the high cost of their malpractice insurance policies.

At Chope Community Hospital in San Mateo, surgical services were curtailed. Only emergency cases were handled.

At Peninsula Hospital in Burlingame, emergency and obstetric surgery were provided. Elective surgery were provided. Elective surgery were not. Nurses in surgery were asked to take the day off.

The same situation prevailed at nearby Mills Memorial Hospital in San Mateo. There, only elective surgery was provided.

At Sequoia Hospital in Redwood City, there was no elective surgery. "There was coverage for emergency cases," said a hospital spokesman. Surgical staffers were asked to take the day off.

In Palo Alto, at Stanford Hospital, 12 of 42 elective surgeries were cancelled Tuesday as anesthesiologists prepare to demonstrate in Sacramento.

Kaiser hospitals are not affected by the boycott.

Although Mary's Help Hospital has been seriously affected by this situation, most physicians and surgeons in San Mateo County have not been directly hit by the rising costs of malpractice insurance. That will probably come later.

Most doctors in this county are insured through The Travelers Insurance Companies and those policies do not come up for renewal until October of this year.

Meanwhile, the strike by Bay Area physicians seems to be easing.

As many as 80 per cent of them — outside the field of anesthesiology — reportedly signed up for new insurance over the past weekend.

Still, the anesthesiologists in the affected counties have vowed to continue the boycott.

"Once and for all this issue must be met and resolved," Dr. Donald Walker, chief of anesthesiology at Franklin Hospital in San Francisco said Sunday.

He conceded that an estimated four-fifths of private specialists in other fields are renewing their policies, but he added, "Our colleagues are behind us. I've been getting calls all morning long saying they want us not to back down."

Walker told a news conference at the San Francisco Medical Society that the anesthesiologists will stay off the job until they are assured of lower rates.

Dr. Bruce Anderson, president of the Alameda-Contra Costa County Medical Association, which represents most private physicians in the East Bay said, "We support all doctors who find themselves unable to afford insurance."

Many surgeons reported Sunday that they have renewed their insurance with some limitations. Many are covered for treatment of old patients, but are not allowed to undertake new surgery, except in emergencies.

Hospitals in eight Northern California counties affected by the insurance rate hikes have cut back staffing and cut out elective surgery.

Argonaut Insurance Co., of Menlo Park announced malpractice insurance hikes ranging to 322 per cent on about 4,000 doctors policies that expired May 1.

Anesthesiologists were the hardest hit with their rates going up from $5,377 to $18,164.

Doctors aren't the only ones affected by the strike. In San Francisco, spokesmen for several hospital unions said Sunday as many as 3,000 employes could be laid off this week if the strike continues.

Vista Grande to Close; Pupils to JFK, Colma

Vista Grande Elementary School is closing, and its 200 students will be sent to John F. Kennedy and Colma Elementary Schools next September.

Because of a decline in enrollment in the Jefferson Elementary School District, Colma and JFK have enough class space to accommodate the Vista Grande students.

The district's Board of Trustees, who voted unanimously Monday night to close the school, anticipate saving about $70,000.

"It stinks when we have to close the local schools," said David Parker, president of the board. "But I think if you look at it realistically, we have so many dollars and we've got to get them all around."

The school's seven teachers will still be needed and will probably be sent to Colma and JFK. The $70,000 will be saved by eliminating all other personnel (custodian, secretary, principal) and by eliminating upkeep and public utility expenses.

The County has offered to lease Vista Grande for approximately $20,000 a year for use as a school for the handicapped.

"You say the longest distance a child will be bused is .8 of a mile," said Mrs. Carole Young. "I'm not interested in having my child walk even one-fourth of a mile in the kind of weather we have here."

"The only thing I can say to that is that we have youngsters all over the district walking that distance," said Parker.

"I'm relatively new to the area," said Mrs. Janice Blount. "My son (who is seven) was bused clear across town when we lived in San Francisco. Here he won't have that privilege — he'll have to walk .8 of a mile."

Children living south of Thiers Street (both east and west of Hillside Boulevard and including Hillside) will be within .8 of a mile of Colma Elementary and will walk to school. Children living on Thiers Street and north of Thiers (east and west of Hillside Boulevard and including Hillside) will be bused to JFK.

One parent wanted to know why General Pershing, Crocker or Olympia Elementary Schools couldn't be closed instead.

"Wouldn't the savings be the same?" he asked.

Supt. Herbert Hemington said the savings would be similar.

"But the facts are, we have an opportunity to lease this school," he said. "They (the County's Development Center) aren't interested in the other schools. This way we can save some money when we close the school."

"Crocker and Pershing couldn't be used as a handicap (program) school because of the stairs," said Vinton Stratton, Assistant Supt. of Instruction.

The summer school program planned for Vista Grande will still be held, the trustees agreed. They also said that neighborhood children will be allowed to use the school's playground when the handicap school isn't in session.

Cablevision Asks Year Extension

By FRANK LaPIERRE

Vista Grande Cablevision has asked Daly City for a one year extension of its current franchise, the Post has learned.

Last June, the City Council, angered over the flood of complaints being received from disgruntled cable television subscribers in the city, gave Vista Grande one year to improve its citywide system.

Vista Grande's general manager, Spence Woods, acknowledged he has asked the city for the extension, noting that the modifications have taken more time than he thought they would.

"All in all, it is a much bigger job than we thought," Woods said of the project.

He said the object of the company is to convert all existing "Discade" equipment, the company's original installation, and replace it by more conventional equipment.

"The reception was very bad in the 'Discade' system and we decided to rebuild it all. We didn't realize what a big job it would be," Woods said.

There are now some 2,000 subscribers in Daly City with an average of 50 new subscribers being connected each day, Woods said.

"Complains are almost nil in the new system," Woods said. He said most complaints being received concern the older Discade system. Some 500 persons still are hooked up to the older system, he said.

Most of the eastern sectors of the city have been modified, Woods said.

Vista Grande also has a new transmitting tower on San Bruno Mountain, it was explained.

Woods now wants an extension for completion of the system throughout the city — except for the Serramonte area — to June, 1976.

Serramonte would be completed one year later, because it is all underground, Woods explained.

Woods said part of the blame for the delay in finishing the system must be put on the telephone company "who gave us a bad time when we asked to take our old cables down and put up new cable."

City officials refused to comment on the request until it has been introduced at a meeting of the City Council.

Asked his reaction on the extension request, Councilman Tony Giammona said, "You remember how I voted last year? I haven't changed my mind."

He voted against the extension.

Northgate Buses Are Running

Northgate Transit buses again are running on the streets of Daly City.

They had been off the streets, stranding thousands of riders, since April 9 when the Public Utilities Commission ordered them to stop operations until they could secure proper insurance.

Several weeks ago, Northgate's insurance was terminated and the company had scrambled around looking for new coverage.

Thursday, the National Indemnity Insurance Company of Omaha renewed Northgate's policy.

The Daly City council at a meeting two weeks ago, filed charges against Northgate with the PUC, asking that state agency to withdraw its permit to Northgate.

A new twist occurred Thursday in a meeting with dissident Northgate driver-bus owners, who had left Northgate to form a new company — Daly City Transit Systems, Inc. — last year.

For months, this new company had asked the City Council and the PUC to cancel Northgate's permit and instead allow DCTS to operate.

Northgate's General Manager Carlos Paniagua told The Post that these drivers had not only contracted to again work for Northgate, they had signed a petition asking the PUC to withdraw their request for a permit.

Julius Castellan, general manager for DCTS, said Paniagua's statements that drivers have realigned themselves with Northgate and have petitioned to have a request that the PUC cancel Northgate's permit to operate in Daly City "is just not true."

Youth Loses Two Fingers

Efforts of Daly City policemen and Mary's Help Hospital surgeons to save two severed fingers on the right hand of little Corey Sweeney failed April 28.

The 1½ year old boy stuck his right hand in the rotating mechanism of a clothes dryer at the apartment building he lives in at 320 Lake Merced Blvd. about 2 p.m.

Two fingers were severed before the child could pull his hand out.

He was rushed to Mary's Help Hospital, followed by police carrying the mangled fingers.

Corey was reported resting comfortably today in the pediatrics ward of the hospital, a spokesman said.

Rip-Offs in the North County Are Increasing

By FRANK LaPIERRE

Burglars are making out like bandits in the North County these days. Ask any policeman.

In a three month period, from October to Dec. 31, the four major North County cities of Daly City, South San Francisco, San Bruno and Pacifica, burglaries zoomed from 453 in 1972, to 645 in 1974.

Who is the average burglar? What does he look like? How does he steal, almost at will? And what does he steal?

A profile compiled by the North San Mateo County Crime Prevention Unit, released last month, describes today's thief as a white male, between 14-20 years old (47.03 per cent), who simply walks through unlocked windows or doors and steals mostly televisions, stereos or radio sets.

Of the 645 burglaries reported, 80.16 per cent are still unsolved and are being investigated. Only 16.28 per cent have been cleared by arrests.

"It seems there is no way to stop a burglar if he, or she, decides to enter a home, police say.

A burglar alarm, dog, safety lock and "deadbolt lock" are good safety devices, police say, but not the absolute deterrent they are often hailed as being.

The answer, police say, is to mark all valuables in a home for later identification if and when a suspect is caught.

Public apathy is still the best ally burglars have, according to Daly City Detective Harry Lax.

Lax, who said the burglary problem is "going to get worse," told one case when a burglar merely kicked in the front door of a home and entered.

Later, during the investigation, some neighbors said they saw a stranger walking door to door in the area of the burglary, and said they heard some noises, but they didn't want to bother police about such "trifles."

"We wish they would bother us," Detective Robert Vogt, another member of the CPU said. "If they don't bother us, we'll never be able to apprehend these burglars."

Lax said it appeared today's burglars "have a lack of fear of getting caught."

He blamed "hard times, liberal laws and liberal judges" for making it difficult for police to curtail the burglary epidemic.

The case of kicking in the front door of a home is not routine, police explain.

"Most (burglars) check out a house to see it anyone is home — usually by pretending they are selling something or looking for someone," Lax said. "Then they walk around the House, looking for an unlocked window or door. They usually find one."

How long does it take a burglar to enter a home, steal and flee, Detective James Mendiara was asked?

"Perhaps five minutes," Mendiara answered.

"They know what they are looking for. Every woman keeps a jewel box in her bedroom. Surprisingly, few people use bank safe deposit boxes for their valuables," Lax interjected.

Locks are for honest people, investigators remind.

And if the public continues to remain apathetic toward these crimes, there will be no stemming the rising tide of such crimes, police believe.

"I might also mention that communities with a high crime rate experience higher insurance premiums," Lax said.

Parking Angers Merchants

For years merchants along Mission Street in Daly City complained business was bad because of a severe lack of parking.

They pounded on city hall doors for years demanding something be done.

Two years ago, the city began leasing vacant lots along Mission Street and converting them into parking lots to supplement street metered parking.

Over the months, various experiments were carried out by changing parking times on meters along streets, extending metered time in parking lots, and, recently, allowing parking in lots with monthly permits purchased from the city for $5.

It had been hoped employes of businesses along the street would use the lots on a long term basis and leave the street parking to customers.

It just did not work out that way.

The City Council Monday learned there is a "disappointingly small number" of persons using monthly parking permits in the lots, and the street meters are still being used by employes who apparently abhor walking a short distance to their place of employment.

Mission Merchants Association Vice President George Smith said "I thought the parking fee would work. It's just awful."

He said very few people are using the lots and called it "a disappointment to the city and to merchants supportive of the plan."

Past president of the Association, Vince Merlo, a long-time critic of the city's East-of-Junipero Serra parking plans and primemover of the parking lot project, said the majority of people apparently think the parking permits are for merchants — so they don't bother to apply for them.

When originally proposed, the city was concerned that Bay Area Rapid Transit District commuters would hog the lots. Mayor Victor Kyriakis said.

"Apparently word hasn't gotten out to them yet," he said.

Kyriakis said he would prefer Mission Street business employes use the lots and leave the street parking to customers.

"Getting people out of their cars is hard to do," City Manager David Rowe said.

The city leases four lots at $100 a month each.

Kyriakis has asked for a staff report on the situation in two weeks.

DC Park Project Is Scaled Down

The ambitious Lincoln Park project, which was to have encompassed a four acre area between Brunswick and Hanover Streets in Daly City, has been whittled down to two acres.

Project funds over the next 10 years for purchase of the park site cannot be determined at this time, City Manager David Rowe gloomily told the City Council Monday.

And homeowners in the immediate area felt threatened by plans for park expansion, he said.

Many said they did not know if they should make necessary repairs on their homes when the city might step in and buy up their properties at any time, the council was told.

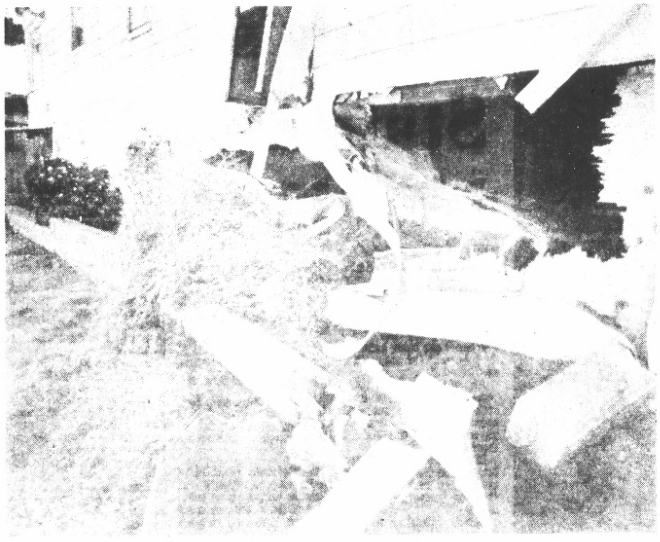
Rowe said it has taken seven years to buy five parcels of land around the Lincoln Park site.

He said it was doubtful at this rate the city would ever cross Winchester Street to buy property for the park in the next 10 years.

Councilman McRobert Stewart said he hoped the city was not losing sight of the fact it has been a long-time desire of the council to build a major park in the Crocker Hills area.

"I still envision a major park in that area," Stewart said.

It is expected the council will take official action, May 12, to delete the two acres from the park's master plan.



TRUCK RAMS HOUSE

The home of Antonio Cruz of 701 Templeton St., Daly City was heavily damaged when a truck driven by Terry T. Bryant, 28, of 395 Frankfort Street, Daly City allegedly rammed into his home about 1:10 a.m. Monday. Bryant was booked by police for felony drunken driving.

'Blood Alley' Claims Colman

Jose A. Mancilla, 23, of Colma, was killed instantly Monday when his auto crossed a divider line and smashed head-on into another auto on the Doyle Drive approach to Golden Gate Bridge.

The driver of the other auto — Herbert Thomas, 53, of San Rafael — also was killed instantly in the 4:30 p.m. collision.

All traffic came to a virtual standstill for 45 minutes, with cars backed up for miles on approaches to the bridge.

California Highway Patrol officers said Mancilla was eastbound when his auto crossed the divider line near the Park Presidio turnoff.

Mancilla was hurled from his car by the impact and onto the pavement. A passenger in Mancilla's auto, Ramon Gonzalez, 29, received minor injuries in the accident.

Thomas' wife, Patricia, was taken to San Francisco General Hospital where she was listed in serious condition Monday night.

Doyle Drive — an undivided roadway of six narrow lanes — has been officially designated a traffic hazard by the State Highway Commission.

Daly City Man Found Hanged

A Daly City man committed suicide by hanging in the garage of his Vista Grande Avenue home Sunday night.

Coroner's investigators and police said Jack W. Stephenson, 20, of 512 Vista Grande Ave., tied a light rope around a rafter in the garage, stood on a chair and kicked the chair away.

The victim's mother, Emily Stephenson, told investigators her son had gone into the garage about 6:15 p.m.

She decided to see what he was doing in the garage and found the body.

There were no notes, police said.

Stephenson was pronounced dead on arrival at Mary's Help Hospital at 7:55 p.m.

Meanwhile, San Mateo County coroner's office and Daly City police are investigating the death of Donald J. Bisordi, 23, who was found lying nude in a bathtub inside his Mission Street home gasping for breath Saturday.

Mrs. Elsie Bisordi, of 6273 Mission St., said she found her son lying in the bathtub "making snorting sounds."

The victim was rushed to Mary's Help Hospital where he died, apparently from an overdose of drugs.

Earlier, on Friday, Bisordi was taken to St. Luke's Hospital in San Francisco suffering from an apparent overdose of drugs.

Police said Bisordi was released from St. Luke's and later was found in the bathtub by his mother when she returned from work Saturday night.

New Boss Takes Post At BART

By FRANK LaPIERRE

One of the state's highest paid public officials, newly-appointed Bay Area Rapid Transit District general manager Frank Herringer says he doesn't have any ready-made solutions to the problems afflicting the 75-mile transit system.

But he promised Wednesday he would devote all his time and efforts to finding solutions.

Herringer, whose father and grandfather were both employed by transit systems in New York City, was hired as BART's general manager at a salary of $68,500 per year on a 6-3 vote of the board of directors.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. is paid $49,500 annually.

"Frankly, I think the governor is grossly underpaid for his job," Herringer replied when asked how he felt about making more money than the governor.

Herringer said an initial offer of $60,000 had been made by BART, but he turned it down.

"I liked my job in Washington (as administrator for the Urban Mass Transportation Administration) and I had to weigh all things together before accepting the BART post," he said.

After taking his first ride on BART, between the Powell Street station in San Francisco and Lake Merritt station in Oakland Wednesday, Herringer proclaimed the system has the potential of becoming "the finest such system in the world."

To Herringer, BART is "a symbol of what can and cannot be done with mass transit."

He took the job because of the national and international significance of the system the softspoken 32-year-old Herringer said.

His "number one objective" will be to make BART a dependable and reliable transportation system," Herringer said.

Once BART has become a reliable system, Herringer said, he will take a look at expansion of the system.

Asked if this expansion meant building a BART-type system down the Peninsula, Herringer said he did not know.

He said he wants to first take a look at connecting the Oakland International Airport with the East Bay BART line "because it would cost far less" to build.

It would be premature for him to set any target dates for completion of projects, Herringer said.

Herringer said he accepted the job with the understanding "I am going to run the railroad."

He said BART's board of directors, like that of any large corporation, cannot run a railroad, or a corporation, because they are unable to spend the necessary time on the job.

And while he has never operated a railroad before, Herringer said they hired him to manage the district and not to walk around with "a wrench in his hand."

Coast Seniors' Hobby Show Set Tomorrow

A Senior Citizens arts, crafts, and hobby show will be held at the Pacific Manor Shopping Center May 8-10 to celebrate Senior Citizens month by the Pacifica Seniors in Action Center.

Contributing to the show will be members of the 50-Club, Los Pacificans, and the Glenhaven Club, whose work will represent original art and craft pieces created by many skilled artisans of the elderly community in Pacifica.

Of particular attraction at the show will be a large quilt designed and hand made by members of Los Pacificans over the past two months. Other displays include object d'art and craft pieces.

On May 30-31, items from the Pacifica show will be selected to be displayed as special senior citizens exhibit in the Pacifica Art Guild Show at Tanforan Park Shopping Center. This will be the first time that senior citizens have shown as a special group at the annual PAA Exhibit.

The Pacific Manor show will be held from 11 a.m.-5 p.m. Thursday and Friday, from 11 a.m.-6:30 p.m. on Saturday.

State's Ignoring Mountain

Neither the state nor federal government has shown any interest in purchasing San Bruno Mountain for a park, San Mateo County Supervisor James V. Fitzgerald told the North San Mateo County Council of Cities Thursday.

Fitzgerald was defending a letter he had sent out earlier last month asking north county city officials how they felt about donating funds to buy the mountain.

South San Francisco and Daly City both earlier replied to the letter, noting they did not have funds for such participation and, furthermore, felt the people already were being taxed for this.

A special override tax of 6 cents per $100 of assessed valuation is being levied on property owners to pay for park land purchases, officials said.

Fitzgerald said he went to Sacramento to get the feel of how officials there felt about buying the entire mountain.

It was during that visit he was asked by Director of Resources Agency Claire Dedrick to write the letter "because she felt there was a lot of interest from people in the communities" surrounding the mountain, Fitzgerald said.

Daly City Councilmen McRobert Stewart said he was appalled that Sacramento would ask communities to put up money for the mountain.

"They just don't know where it's at," Stewart said.

There is much pressure building on this issue, Supervisor John Ward said, while calling San Bruno Mountain a "resources park" which does not address itself to the type of park where daily picnics and baseball games can be held.

He asked city officials for guidance in the direction to take on park priorities in the county.

Burlingame Mayor Irving Amstrup said the issue, which has boiled between cities for months over whether the mountain should be left as open space or developed, "is fragmenting this body."

The cities unanimously passed a resolution asking the board of supervisors to honor its prior commitment of building a regional-type park in the North County.

WHAT RECESSION?

Despite what the government says is the worst recession in more than two decades, business appears to be brisk at this Westlake Shopping Center store, judging by the amount of trash and cardboard cartons blocking the sidewalk and tumbling into the street. Daly City Scavenger Company crews came by later and cleaned up the mess, it was learned.

St. Augustine Church Building Fund Grows

Cash and pledges to build a Catholic church for St. Augustine parish in South San Francisco amount to $333,777 from 330 pledges, Father Paul E. Duggan, pastor, announced this week.

Now under construction at Callan Boulevard and Greendale Drive, the church will have a seating capacity of more than 600. It will be the first ever built for the newly organized parish. More than $500,000 will be needed to complete the building, exclusive of furnishings, Father Duggan stated. Completion date for the structure is estimated at late October with the first Mass in the new building set tentatively for Nov. 2.

More than 100 workers Sunday afternoon visited homes of Catholic parishioners seeking pledges over a three-year payment period to the building fund. They were under the leadership of Sherman Mattison as general chairman. The following as division chairmen: Frank Almeida, Bernardo Castillo, Donald Jacobberger, Philip Ragona and Antonio Reyes.

First report meeting was Sunday at the Parish Center, 2236 Westborough Blvd., in South San Francisco. Organizational meetings have been conducted every night at this headquarters for more than a month.

Parishioners who had not yet pledged were urged to remain at home Sunday afternoon to await the call of their fellow parishioners.

IT'S YOUR MONEY

Q. I have a private health insurance plan now, but I'll be eligible for Medicare next year. Should I cancel my private insurance?

A. You should first talk to an agent of the insurance company to find out what its regulations are for people covered by Medicare, but many also have special insurance plans which you can purchase to help pay expenses Medicare doesn't cover. For information about Medicare call or write any social security office.

Bicentennial Committee OKs County Projects

Supervisor Edward Barcicocco, chairman of the American Revolution Bicentennial Committee of San Mateo County, announced at the monthly meeting on April 24, that the Board of Supervisors has appointed two new members.

They are Estela Monzon, who is project director for Library Services to the Spanish speaking for the Peninsula Library System, and Maria Foppiano, who is with the County Department of Education.

Approval of several Bicentennial projects also was granted at the meeting, held in the County Government Center.

The "County Spirit Multicultural Task Force" project, proposed by the San Mateo County Arts Council, is seeking matching funds from the national Endowment of the Arts to organize multi-ethnic teams of visual and performing artists, to coordinate and develop City Arts Commissions, and to maximize the uses of the Community Colleges' art resources.

A second project "approved" by the committee was "Music for England — 200 Years of Anglo-American Co-operation," proposed by St. Bede's Choral Society of Trinity Episcopal Church in Menlo Park. The Society presented a concert May 4. at the church. The same concert will be repeated at six cathedrals in England during July, 1975, under the coordination of the Royal School of Church Music headquartered near London.

In addition to the 60 adult choir members, 10 boys aged 9-14, leaders of the Parish Boys' Choir, will attend a one-week Boy Choir Camp in England with approximately 100 boys from all over the British Isles.

The California Bicentennial Wagon Visit, proposed by the Equestrian Activities Committee of the California Bicentennial Commission, was the third project approved. The purpose of the wagon visit is to gather scrolls signed by the people of California, rededicating their faith in America and her principles. These scrolls will be carried across country by the Bicentennial Wagon Train Pilgrimage to Valley Forge, Pa.

Plans for the Bicentennial commemorative plaque and dedication ceremony for the Johnston House were discussed and approved.

The next meeting of the committee will be May 22, 7:30 p.m. at the Burlingame Recreation Center, 850 Burlingame Ave., Burlingame. Interested residents are invited to attend.

MODEL DALY CITY

General Pershing School first graders constructed a model of Daly City out of paper mache as part of a class project. Shown admiring their work are students Philip Cuizon, Bennett Francisco, Mark Herrera, Sandra Thomas, Elisa Medina, Jimmy Fernandez, Kevin Primes and Anna Giannulias, with teacher Marilyn Hughes.

Paintings, Photos To Be Displayed

Prints, paintings and photographs will be on display for San Mateo County Residents during May in publicly-owned galleries. The triple-phased exhibition is under the auspices of the San Mateo County Arts Council's Mini-Gallery program.

In San Mateo, Sunshine Gallery, 141 Bored Avenue, will host an exhibit of 29 prize-winning prints from the "World Print Competition '73," a world-wide graphite art competition organized by the California College of Arts and Crafts in association with the San Francisco Museum of Art. The prints will be on exhibit through June 13, weekdays 9 to 5.

Octagon Gallery in Daly City Civic Center will house "Five Artists from Five Cities," a group exhibition of San Mateo County artists selected especially for this show. The five artists are Barbara Ross of Atherton, Annie Hicks Siberell of Hillsborough, Mary Ellen Schultz of Belmont, Shelley Innes of Redwood City, and Tony Gardner of San Mateo. The show, including photographs, pen and ink drawings, acrylics, and mixed media, will be on display through June 13.

In Redwood City, "The Two Worlds of Mike Spinelli," an exhibit of black and white and color photographs, will be on view in the Corridor Gallery of the Hall of Justice and Records. Mike Spinelli, a news photographer for Amphlett Newspapers, is noted for photo journalism and award-winning color photographs, one of which has been exhibited in the Smithsonian Institute in Washington, D.C. The photographs will be on display through May 30, concluding a tour of the County Mini-Galleries.

Papan's New Handicap Classes Bill

Assemblyman Louis J. Papan (Dem.-Daly City) has introduced legislation to remove the limit on school districts of how many students may be enrolled in special programs for the educationally handicapped.

Unlike other handicapped students, such as hard of hearing or the blind where there are no limits, local districts may enroll only 2 per cent of their total school population.

"It is inconsistent with the intent of public education to limit the number of children who can get special education to some arbitary percentage like two per cent," Papan said. "If a student is handicapped, he is handicapped and should get the help he or she needs."

Papan's bill, A.B. 1927, will be heard by the Assembly Committee on Education.

Local Federated Women's Clubs Win Awards

San Mateo Federated Clubs affiliates of the California Federation of Women's Clubs received 111 awards, San Francisco and Marin County Clubs, 11 awards, during the Golden Gate District's 19th annual convention held recently in Burlingame.

In her president's report, Mrs. William R. Porter of San Mateo noted that the clubs in the district have supported federation projects, contributing toward scholarships, education, fine arts and home life.

Some 200 persons attended the convention, reported Mrs. Patrick Moore of San Mateo, credentials chairman.

Pacific Coast Women's Press Association of San Francisco received a special citation at the Diamond Jubilee banquet as the oldest club in the district. It will also be one of the clubs honored at the State Convention's Diamond Jubilee in San Diego this week. The Press Association was organized in the "Gay Nineties," September, 1890, and joined the federation in 1900.

On the list of more than 100 charter members are Mrs. Gertrude Atherton, Mrs. Kate Douglas Wiffin and many other notable writers of the time. It has the unique distinction of being the first Women's Press Association on the Pacific Coast.

Mrs. Nellie Blessing Eyster, popular author in those early days, was the first president. Mrs. Cecil L. Cooley of San Francisco is its president, and the district's press chairman.

Fire Service Day Events Saturday

Pacifica Mayor Stan Farber has officially proclaimed Saturday as Fire Service Recognition Day for the City of Pacifica.

A program developed by the fire department will take place at the Linda Mar Shopping Center between 11 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Highlights of the day include: displays of fire apparatus from past to present, cliff rescue techniques, elevating platform demonstration, rescue breathing methods, vehicle extrication utilizing the "Jaws of Life" (presented to the fire department by the Pacifica Rotary Club), a 40-foot jump into a life net, and other events.

The Pacifica Firefighters Muster Association will enhance the program bill with an "old time" bucket brigade and hose cart race against a modern fire engine.

The Women's Bucket Brigade team, which placed second overall in the California State Championships at Benicia last year, has challenged the men to a contest. A spokesman for the men's team says, "It's beginning to get a little embarrassing, we just have to beat them this time."

Terra Nova and Oceana High Schools will divide the day's program by entertaining with their respective bands.

The public is invited to attend this event in appreciation of its fire department.

The Pacifica Fire Department is indebted to Norris, Beggs & Simpson and to the Linda Mar Merchants Association for their cooperation and assistance in this community undertaking.

PTA Studies Television's Impact on Children

Parents concerned about excessive violence and sex in current motion pictures and television programs can be encouraged by the work of the California State PTA's Reviewing Stand committees, whose members have concluded that responsibility for the enrichment of a child's audiovisual experiences is shared equally by parents and the mass media.

The thrust of these committees in reviewing motion pictures, monitoring television programming, and sharing the information with parents has been accelerating since their inception three years ago. Originally, two committees were formed — Reviewing Stand-North (San Francisco Bay area) and Reviewing Stand-South (Los Angeles area). This year, with the State PTA operating on a two-year pilot commission structure, Reviewing Stand-Central has been formed. The committees work with and through the three regional commissions of the California State PTA (North Coast, Central and Southern).

Reviewing Stand-South, because of its proximity to the motion picture industry, has been involved primarily with previewing current motion pictures. Last year, because of a deep concern for the breadth of content of the PG movie rating category, a study was undertaken. In 700 questionnaires returned, parents expressed almost three to one their desire that the PG rating contain more information about the film content. PTA has urged clarification of the PG rating by use of the following designations: PG-V (for violence); PG-S (Sex); PG-L (profane language); PG-C (cruelty to animals); PG-D (drugs).

In continuing this study, Richard D. Heffner, chairman of the Code and Rating Administration, Motion Picture Association of America, recently spoke to members and guests of the Reviewing Stand-South explaining the criteria for the rating system.

Reviewing Stand-North has focused its attention on monitoring and evaluating television programs. The group has had Bob Keeshan (Captain Kangaroo) as its guest speaking on children's television programming. Through the committee, the California State PTA also co-sponsored the children's Television Fair in San Francisco.

Presentations by professional broadcasters and educators, as well as community experts, included "How Children Learn from TV," "Alternatives to Violence," and the use of instructional TV. Video previews of quality children's programming, both locally and nationally, were presented. Mrs. John I. Langdell of San Francisco served as co-ordinator of the fair for the California State PTA.

The prime focus of Reviewing Stand-Central will be on instructional television.

Reviewing Stand-North officers include Mmes. John O'Conner of Corte Madera, chairwoman (Fourteenth District); Dallas Wagner of San Rafael, vice chairwoman (Fourteenth District); and Gordon Johnson of Castro Valley (Sixteenth District), secretary. Mrs. Dorothy Shoenfeld of Fairfield is TV monitoring chairwoman for the committee.

Mrs. Gordon Nelson of San Bruno is State PTA advisor for the group.

Pacifica Mancala Tourney

The third annual Laguna Salada School District mancala tournament has been set for 9 to 11:30 a.m. May 16 at the district office, 375 Reina Del Mar, Pacifica.

Mancala may be the oldest game board in the world, dating back at least 7,500 years.

It's simple but requires a good sense of logic and strategy and has been found to be a good teaching tool for mathematics.

Each Laguna Salada district school will have its own elimination tournament, with the one winner in each section from each school to meet in the district finals May 16.

The four sections will include grades 1 and 2, 3-4, 5-6 and 7-8. The two lower-grade and two upper-grade winners will play each other, with trophies to go to the four section and two division winners.

Bike Event Planned May 25

The Cancer League of the San Mateo County Unit of the American Cancer Society has announced that this year's Bike-A-Thon will be May 25.

Mrs. Paul Cotton, chairwoman, said more than 600 riders have taken part in this event annually. "We hope to have even more this year," said Mrs. Cotton.

Members of the league have been working for several months making the many arrangements that must go into this undertaking. The bike route, which extends from Menlo Park to Burlingame, has been laid out carefully.

Six check points vary from every two to six miles.

Local police departments, as well as the National Guard of San Mateo, will assist riders along the way. "Sag Wagons" also will be provided by league members to aid fatigued cyclists.

Mrs. Cotton said participants need sponsors to back their efforts by pledging money based on the distance covered by a rider. Individuals as well as businesses may be sponsors.

"Proceeds from the event will help support the Cancer Society's programs of education, research, and patient services," said Mrs. Cotton.

Sponsor sheets may be obtained at the American Cancer Society at 1163 Chess Drive, Foster City, or at local schools, libraries, recreation centers or bike shops.

Softball Planned In Daly City

The Daly City Recreation Division is sponsoring a summer women's slo-pitch softball league for women 18 years of age and older.

All games will be played Sunday afternoons at Westlake Park starting June 22.

An organizational meeting for the league has been planned for May 14 at 7 p.m. in the War Memorial Community Center Building, 6655 Mission St.

All interested individuals are urged to attend this meeting.

With Cal Poly Symphonic Band

SSF Student Going to Vienna

Mike Lerman, a junior majoring in biochemistry at California Polytechnic State University and son of the Solomon Lermans of South San Francisco, is a member of the San Luis Obispo campus' symphonic band which has been chosen resident ensemble for the International Youth and Music Festival in Vienna, July 4-17.

The 85-member Cal Poly band was chosen by a national screening and auditioning board.

The International Association for Cultural Exchange and the National Educational Scholarship Foundation sponsor the festival.

Cal Poly President Robert Kennedy said the band's stay in Austria will include several performances in such prestigious concert sites as the Austrian Radio Network Broadcasting Hall and the Arkandenhof, Vienna's summer concert hall.

As resident ensemble the Cal Poly band will be featured throughout the two-week-long festival "and serve as an inspiration to the high school and conservatory age students" at the Vienna event, according to Robert H. Asher, "who issued the invitation on behalf of the scholarship foundation.

Described as a musical, educational, and cultural program, the festival in Vienna is an invitational event for bands, orchestras, and choirs from both Europe and North America. International panels of distinguished musicians rate and critique the ensembles and individual musicians compete for scholarships.

More than 7,000 student musicians from 15 different nations have taken part since the first festival was presented in 1972.

The Cal Poly Symphonic Band, directed by William V. Johnson, has gained a reputation for outstanding performances of classical and contemporary band music over the past 10 years. Its performances have included an annual concert tour of California, as well as campus concerts during the winter and spring months.

The total estimated cost of the Symphonic Band's trip to Europe is $75,000. Band members expect to provide approximately half of the total cost themselves, and plans are now being made to raise the remaining funds through contributions and fund raising activities.

Tax deductible contributions may be made to the Cal Poly Foundation, and sent in care of Al Amaral, executive director of the Cal Poly Foundation, California Polytechnic State University, San Luis Obispo, Calif., 93407.

Cal Poly, part of the California State University and Colleges system, has a student body of just over 14,000.

It is internationally known for its academic programs in agriculture, architecture, business, engineering, home economics, and science and mathematics, which are integrated with closely related career-oriented or supporting programs in communicative arts, education, humanities, and social sciences.

Pacifican Featured in Local Concert

Mildred Owen, mezzo soprano of Pacifica, will make her debut as an artist-in-residence member of the San Mateo County Chamber Music Society in its final pair of concerts of the 1975 season.

Ms. Owen will be featured in Handel's solo cantata, "Armida Abbandonata." Assisting in the cantata will be harpsichordist Madeline Ingram and several string members of the society.

In addition, Ms. Owen will give the premiere performance of "Three Russian Songs" by composer-in-residence P. Peter Sacco. Collaborating in the performance of this work will be pianist JoAnn Crossman Stenberg.

Other highlights of the concert will feature the duo team of artists-in-residence Alan and Jessica Schackne, performing Francois Couperin's Concerto in G Major for bassoon and cello; a performance of Maurice Ravel's Piano Trio by Ms. Crossman, Ms. Schackne and violinist Helen Bever; and a Quartet in C Major for bassoon and string trio by Francois Devienne.

The concerts will be given with the cooperation of the community services offices of the Junior College District at College of San Mateo, May 28 in the Little Theatre, and again at Skyline College May 31 in the Main Theatre. Both concerts will begin at 8:30 p.m.

Ms. Owen is currently an instructor in voice at Skyline College. She has been heard in opera, oratorio, church, synagogue, and chamber music concerts throughout the Bay Area, and has appeared as soloist with most of its symphony orchestras. She has most recently performed with the San Francisco Spring Opera.

Tickets for each individual concert may be purchased one hour before the concert at the college box office.

Daly City: A Melting Pot

"I find Daly City to be a mosaic of peoples of all races and persuasions."

This quotation from Herbert Hemmington, superintendent of the Jefferson Elementary School District, is the latest observation of the profound changes that are remaking San Mateo County.

Such changes argue that now is the time to review the civil rights movement, and to ask where it is going and how it will affect society?

One answer comes from Hemington himself. He states that it is producing a demand in the schools for instruction in skills that have been called the mosaics of civilization: music, art, language instruction, athletics etc. Hemington notes that school boards and administrators will have to look beyond these subjects for things to cut in an age of decreasing enrollment.

Other answers may be found in periodicals that were produced on the 10th anniversaries of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and the Voting Rights Act of 1965.

In an interview that was published in the "U.S. News and World Report" for Sept. 23, 1974, J. Stanley Pottinger of the Civil Rights Division of the Department of Justice listed some urgent priorities. "One is extending the right of equal educational opportunity for such groups as Spanish Americans, Asian Americans, American Indians and the mentally retarded. Another is the enforcement of Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, baring sex discrimination in education activities receiving federal tax dollars."

Pottinger observes that to this day gains in ending racial discrimination in public accommodations and public facilities are achieved through law-suits. He writes, "We still have a long way to go, but at least we know that the civil-rights laws of the country work and that real change is possible."

ANOTHER SURVEY of the civil rights movement appeared in the January 1975 issue of "Ebony." The authors report that in seven critical areas: income, employment, education, marital and family patterns, health, housing, power and control, blacks have moved into higher status. The drive for the future, therefore, must be two-fold: to prevent deterioration of social conditions and to prevent a neglect of interests of minorities through slackening the pace of improvements during the rest of the 1970's.

Speaking of employment, the authors note that for blacks and others equal entry into better jobs has been achieved — "now the critical issue is whether they will continue to advance in these jobs and move up into responsible higher paying positions." The authors observe that there is no lasting equality until everyone has a right to rise into "the upper echelon jobs classification."

Of marital and family patterns, the authors note that "blacks are now less likely to marry; their marriages more frequently end in separation or divorce; and their children grow up in split homes." Further "more than a third of black births and each year are illegitimate, and the incidence of illegitimacy among black women in their young teens has not declined." Such facts cause the authors to warn that "the black family structure needs undergirding, since it seems to be deteriorating."

While the "Ebony" article deals with only the black segment of the total population, it presents facts and figures that should be observed and noted as communities like those in San Mateo County become "mosaics of all races and persuasions."

Temple Sets Family Sock Hop at Westlake Center

Sabbath services will be held at Congregation B'nai Israel, 1575 Annie St., Daly City, on Friday, beginning at 8:30 p.m. This Sabbath, Rabbi Jay Krause will be guest rabbi; Cantor Jacob Graudenz also will conduct. An oneg shabbat (social hour) will follow services.

Sabbath services will continue on Saturday at 10 a.m. Portion of the Torah to be read is Bamidbar. Kiddush will follow the service.

Congregation B'nai Israel, 1575 Annie St., Daly City will hold a Family Sock Hop to be held June 1 at 6 p.m. at the Westlake Community Center, 149 Lake Merced Blvd., Daly City.

Donation is $10 a family or $4 a person. Proceeds will go to the Donna Sublow Campership Fund.

San Francisco disc jockey, Larry Perret, will play records from the 50's.

The Congregation's Parent-Teacher-Organization will hold its first Family Shabbat Dinner and service at the Synagogue, June 6 at 7:30 p.m.

A traditional Sabbath dinner will be served, namely: chopped liver and egg, matzo ball soup, baked chicken, glazed carrots, oven-roasted potato and for dessert — home-baked treats.

The program will include Israeli Folk dancing, sabbath songs, awards for the children and installation of P.T.P. officers.

Donation is $3 for adults, $1.50 for children. Since space is limited, reservation deadline has been set for May 20, and this can be done by calling Frances Robinson, 994-6105 or Ina Hoffman, 992-4241, or the synagogue office, 756-5430.

Making It in Male-Dominated Business World

By MICHELLE CARTER
Post Staff Writer

In 1970 Letty Cottin Pogrebin wrote a book titled "How to Make It in a Man's World." In it, she described how women could remake themselves into successful pegs in the male-dominated business world.

Now she's written another book for working women, but this time around Ms. Pogrebin is out to remake the system to fit the woman.

In the intervening five years, Letty Cottin Pogrebin, Ladies Home Journal columnist and MS editor, has been radicalized by the sisterhood of working women. Her recently published book, "Getting Yours: How to Make the System Work for the Working Woman" (McKay, $8.95), reflects the change that she has undergone as a woman and as an author.

In the first chapter, she chronicles her transition from a working woman who succeeded by imitating the male traits of her co-workers — co-workers who praised her for "thinking like a man" or for being "different from most women."

What she gained most in the transition was a whopping awareness of her working sisters who were trapped in a system that allowed only a few super-achieving women to succeed.

"I finally realized that I was just as oppressed in management as the woman in the key punch room, but on another level," she explained in a recent interview.

"A healthy dose of sisterhood is such a positive thing. Working women have to stop identifying with men and participating in a world that devalues womanhood."

In the book she states that women truly will have achieved equality in the job market when women in management are permitted to be mediocre just as many men are — when the only women in these lofty positions are not superstars.

But, Ms. Pogrebin contends, there's much more to achieving real equality than positive thinking and raised consciousness. There are laws, and she's ready to show the working woman how to use them.

She describes Title VII as the working woman's most formidable weapon. Thanks to it, she says, if an interviewer's questions seem impertinent ("Are you practicing birth control?") or an employer's actions seem unjust (peremptory firing because of pregnancy), they're probably illegal as well.

The Equal Employment Opportunity Commission is the place to turn when a woman feels she's been victimized by an abuse of Title VII and in the book she explains how it works.

"Affirmative action" programs, which grew out of an Executive Order signed by President Lyndon B. Johnson, represent the most realistic effort to put women into the mainstream of jobs. The order demanded that businesses holding substantial contracts with the government employ women and minority persons throughout the structure of the firm or lose those contracts.

But there's a thorn in the rose, Ms. Pogrebin says. Because "affirmative action" hirings are relatively recent, the women and minorities have been the first fired in the current economic downturn.

The depressed state of the economy also has affected the woman worker's interest in protesting sex discrimination and bucking the system. When a woman has no other job prospect in sight, she's probably not as willing to make a complaint with the EEOC, even though firings for agitating against sex discrimination are held illegal under Title VII.

"I don't think anyone should make an experiment out of her life, but unless you need the money to eat, you have to decide if you're going to lose as much time in the filing room as you would lose in a legal battle.

"After someone takes the first step, it's much less difficult for other women in the wake. But it doesn't work if a woman negotiates a maternity leave or a raise privately with her employer. Unless the changes are institutionalized, no one else benefits."

She also counsels women to expect to work for changes themselves rather than depending on union negotiators to go to bat for women.

"When men are bargaining for you, they can't begin to understand why maternity disability or child care should be on the table with wages."

She adds that there are "very few unions I'm particularly fond of" because of their attitudes toward the working woman, but she cites the United Auto Workers as being exemplary in this field.

"Getting Yours" parts company with many other books on the working woman by its emphasis on the problems of the working mother. Ms. Pogrebin devotes several chapters to topics of interest to working mothers such as arranging for child care and discovering what children really think about their working mother.

She speaks from personal experience. Letty Pogrebin had worked herself into a good position with a publishing house when she became pregnant for the first time.

"I was going to be the good Jewish mother. When my first child was about to be born (who turned out to be children, incidentally), I quit — I really quit. I never questioned it. I thought it was inevitable — especially if you had two at once like I did."

When her twin daughters were three months old, her husband suggested that she might like to go back to work on a part-time basis. She went back to her old boss and he jumped at the chance to have her back on any terms.

"I was constantly grateful to everyone — to my husband for letting me go back to work and to my boss for letting me work part-time and for letting me bring work home. It never occurred to me that I was entitled."

Probably because of her own experience, Ms. Pogrebin is very high on flexible work scheduling that will allow working women and mothers to arrange schedules that fit their special needs and still serve the needs of the employer. She notes that companies such as Hewlett Packard in Palo Alto have been in the forefront in this area.

She also encourages employers to consider part-time employes or to hire two persons to fill a single opening and allow them to split the time between them.

"A lot of employers are learning about the advantages to alternative scheduling. People are more productive on a part-time basis. Research studies have shown that workers are most productive in the first four hours of work and it goes downhill from there.

"And part-time workers are often terribly grateful for the opportunity to work shorter hours and gratitude begets loyalty. It humanizes the work experience so much you want to prove yourself.

"With paired and shared jobs (in which two persons share a single full-time job) employers have an instant replacement if one is ill and they can work out their own needs between themselves."

Nowhere, she says, is it written that people must work only from 9 to 5.

Light Opera Season to Begin

The opening event of this year's Civic Light Opera productions is Nanette Fabray starring in "Wonderful Town." Scheduled to play at the Curran for seven weeks, the Leonard Bernstein musical opened Tuesday.

Also starring George Gaynes, Jack Kurschen, and Marti Rolph (as Eileen), the musical has not been staged previously by C.L.O. Based on the play, "My Sister, Eileen," with lyrics by Betty Comden and Adolph Green, "Wonderful Town" opened to an enormously successful season in New York in Feb. 1953. At that time, the critics called it the best show since "Guys and Dolls."

The production has been staged and choreographed by Danny Daniels.

NELL NORTON

Good morning, good cooks.

Omelettes are much favored in my home. Therefore I was happy to try a recipe for baked cheese omelettes which I received recently. As you can see from the directions, they are easy to make and the results are quite delicious.

BAKED CHEESE OMELETTES

¼ cup butter
1 cup finely diced cooked ham (about ¾ pound)
6 eggs
½ teaspoon salt
Few dashes liquid red pepper seasoning
½ teaspoon rubbed sage
¼ teaspoon thyme
¼ teaspoon tarragon, crushed
¼ cup flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
1 cup small curd cottage cheese
½ pound Monterey jack cheese, grated (about 2 cups)

Melt the fourth cup butter in skillet. Spoon 1 teaspoon into each of four individual baking dishes (three-fourths to one cup each). Coat dishes with butter. Add the one cup chopped ham to the remaining butter. Saute about five minutes.

Beat the six eggs with the half teaspoon salt, dash of pepper seasoning, half teaspoon sage, fourth teaspoon each thyme and tarragon, fourth cup flour, and half teaspoon baking powder. Mix in the one cup cottage cheese and two cups grated Monterey jack cheese and the ham.

Spoon into baking dishes, distributing ham as evenly as possible. Bake in 400-degree oven 15 minutes. Reduce heat to 325-degrees and bake 15 minutes longer or until puffed and golden. Makes four servings.

Next I want to share a delightful, delicious, dessert that has the added attraction of being decidedly easy to make.

EASY CHOCOLATE PIE

1 frozen pie shell
1 large bar milk chocolate
3 Tablespoons water
1 large container whipped topping

Bake and cool pie shell. In top of double boiler melt the chocolate bar, broken into pieces, with three tablespoons water. Allow to cool to barely lukewarm. Fold melted chocolate into whipped topping. Pour into pie shell and refrigerate.

Garnish with shaved chocolate or more of whipped topping, or both.

NOTE: I used a six ounce bar of dark chocolate when I made it, but if light chocolate is more to your taste, use it.

Starfighter on Display At Serramonte Center

A U. S. Air Force Lockheed F-104 Starfighter, popularly known as "the Missile with a man in it," will be on public display at Serramonte Center in Daly City, May 8 to 14.

The Starfighter is the only aircraft in the world to simultaneously hold the world records for speed, altitude and time-to-climb. On Dec. 13, 1958, an F-104 captured the time to climb record when it rocketed to 82,020 feet in four minutes 26 seconds. A new world speed record was established May 16, 1958, when an F-104 was flown 1,404 miles per hour, breaking the previous record of 1,207 m.p.h. The F-104 set a world altitude record of 91,249 feet May 8, 1958, breaking the old record of 76,392 feet.

The Starfighter was also the first aircraft to fly twice the speed of sound in level flight and the first to exceed an altitude of 100,000 feet. The aircraft, with its stubby razor-sharp wings, was powered by a General Electric jet engine which produced a thrust of 15,000 pounds with after-burner.

Because of its multi-mission capability, the F-104 was flown both as an air superiority interceptor and as a tactical fighter. Today it is flown by members of the Air National Guard and is used in the Air Force testing programs. There are over 1,200 advanced versions of the F-104 in operational status in the air forces of 14 foreign countries.

The exhibit is sponsored by the Serramonte Center Merchants Association in cooperation with the Air Force. Air Force personnel will be present to assist visitors and answer questions about the aircraft. Serramonte Center is located at Highway 280 and Serramonte Boulevard, Daly City.

Bazaar Winner Announced

The Philippine-American Community of St. Augustine Parish, South San Francisco, captured first prize in booth decoration at the Community Bazaar held at Serramonte Center last weekend.

The booth was decorated colorfully in a Philippine motif, with native baskets, posters and handmade Philippine artifacts. Philipino foods prepared by the ladies of the parish proved to be a favorite with customers. The organization is in the process of raising funds with which to build a new church.

According to a spokesman, the Philippine-American Community must raise or pledge nearly $400,000 for the new building.

Bernie Castillo of South San Francisco is in charge of fund raising. Tony Reyes, vice-president, and Val Esnil, business manager, assisted in preparations for the bazaar. Grace Mangrobang was in charge of food preparation, and Luis Santos designed the booth.

Second prize was awarded to the Children's Community Nursery School of San Bruno. Candy Goble of Daly City is president of the parents cooperative school, and Mary Ann was Bazaar chairman.

Boy Scout Troop No. 37 of San Francisco won third prize for their patriotic theme at the bazaar. Scoutmaster Ken Klitgaard of San Francisco was in charge of booth preparation.

It is spring festival time again at the Holy Angels Parish!

Mrs. David J. Rushka, the publicity chairman for the Holy Angels Women's Guild, reports that this year the benefit will be held May 10 from 11 a.m. until 4 p.m. in the parish hall of the church located at 107 San Pedro Road, in Colma.

Students in the primary grades will be performing folk dances, and the hall will be filled with games to play and opportunities to test your skill and good fortune, Mrs. Rushka reports.

Everyone is invited to join in the fun and make this a delightful day of family fun. The proceeds from the festival will be turned over to the Sisters of the Holy Infant Jesus.

For more information about the festival call Mrs. Rushka, 756-2068.

SATURDAY will be an exciting one for the younger set. Local Brownies will be holding their annual Brownie Revel at the Willow Shelter at the Junipero Serra Park.

The youngest contingent of scouts will be lead in arts, crafts, songs, games and hikes by the members of the Panorama Senior Scout Troop 24 under the leadership of senior scout Cheryl Figone.

The girls will be cooking in troops, many of them for the first time, and a number of cadette scouts will be on hand to help the leaders with their troops. For more specific information get in touch with Cheryl before Saturday when the fun begins at 10 a.m.

MRS. ALVIN SCHWARZBACH, chairwoman of the book fair being sponsored by the Friends of the Daly City Library, calls your attention to the fact that this is the last week to make donations of books, records or sheet music to the fair.

May 16 and 17 have been selected as Book Fair dates and bargain hunters come in droves to replenish their reading shelves and to help fill the coffers of the Friends of the Library. The friends, in turn, use the money to supplement the library budget and provide things that the municipal library budget would not be able to afford.

Donations may be left in any branch of the library or, you may, obtain more information by calling Mrs. Schwarzbach.

FIFTY PLUS MEMBERS will be spending three days and two nights in the gold country next week.

Mrs. Edna Laurel Calhan, tour chairwoman, reports that the club bus will leave May 15 for Volcano, San Andreas, Columbia and Sonora.

First stop will be Volcano and then on to San Andreas, where the Alamador County Senior Citizens will host the coastsiders at a dinner dance at the Elks Club.

The bus will come home via the Stockton route and luncheon will be at the Olde Hoosier Inn in the city of Stockton. Cost for the trip, meals not included, is $46. Anyone interested in going is urged to check with the reservations chairwoman, Mrs. Elizabeth Funderburg, about the possibility of joining the tour. At present the 49 seat bus is filled, but a waiting list is on file, and if you call now there is a possibility you will be able to join in fun of the historic tour.

RETURN TO PARADISE is always a sell-out event so, if you have plans to attend this annual social of St. Andrew's congregation, the tickets are now in short supply, you had best act fast or you'll miss out on all the fun.

For the third straight year Mr. and Mrs. Dean Smith are chairing the evening with liberal assists from Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Montalbano, Mrs. Fata Casside, Mrs. Tina Hall, Mrs. Judy Babin, Mrs. Rosemarie Rodrigues and the reservation's chairwoman, Mrs. Robert Bruno.

The dinner will begin at 7 p.m. on May 17 in St. Andrew's Center in the St. Francis Square. Dinner tickets are being sold for $7.50.

For more information call Mrs. Bruno, 992-4430.

LONDON BROIL will be served to dinner guests at the annual Serra District of the San Francisco Bay Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, according to Mrs. Beckie Burke, publicity coordinator for this dinner and awards program.

The dinner will be held on May 31 in the Parish Hall of St. Anne's Church. Tickets, costing $5 are now on sale and may be obtained by mailing your check to the district office at 5228 Diamond Heights Boulevard, San Francisco. Make checks payable to Boy Scouts of America.

THE DEADLINE for applications for the Education Assistance for Health Careers, sponsored by the Mary's Help Hospital Guild, will be June 1, according to the guild fund chairwoman, Mrs. Janice Batchelder.

The scholarship assistance is open to employes of the hospital and their families, Volunteers and families of Medical-Dental Staff members, who are pursuing a career in the health field.

SPRING FESTIVAL

Looking forward to Holy Angels' Spring Festival which will be held May 10 from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the parish hall, 107 San Pedro Road, Colma, are (from left in rear) John Rushka, Sister Pat, Ann Gumina, Sister Eilish and Greg Simon, and (seated) Joanna Smith and John O'Callaghan. The annual event, which will benefit the sisters of the Holy Infant Jesus, will include folk dancing by the students in grades one through four, games, refreshments and a raffle. The public is invited to attend.

Gifted Education Meet Planned at Nueva Day

Wednesday, May 14 Nueva Day School and the Peninsula Association for Gifted Students (PAGS) will co-sponsor a meeting on gifted education at Nueva Day School, 6965 Skyline Blvd., Hillsborough at 7 p.m.

The speaker will be Irving Sato, project director of the National State Leadership Training Institute for the Gifted and the Talented.

He was formerly with the California State Office of Education specializing in programs for the gifted. He presently conducts workshops and conferences for administrators, teachers, and parents nationwide which deal with development of programs and new identification procedures for the gifted and talented.

At the May 14 meeting, Dr. Sato will cover topics such as what's happening on the national level in gifted education, current studies being made in identification of the gifted and how they relate to our local schools, and the characteristics of the gifted and talented.

There also will be a question and answer period. Administrators, teachers, and parents are invited to attend.

Hillsborough Man Elected

Harry J. Orchard of Hillsborough has been elected vice-chairman of the Rehabilitation Advisory Committee of the State Department of Rehabilitation.

Orchard fills a vacancy created by the accession of Don J. Lathrop of San Jose, from the vice chairmanship to the lead position, replacing A. Milton Miller, who died.

Orchard is manager of customer relations for IBM Corp. in the San Francisco Bay Area.

Animal Control Rapped

"Dog owners, many of whom indicate they feel persecuted by the Peninsula Humane Society, had their say before the Pacifica City Council last week.

Robert Coss, 120 Essex Way, speaking for several Pedro Point dog owners, said his group had met with city and humane society officials three times.

"We feel there is a concerted effort by the SPCA (Humane Society) on animal control at Pedro Point. But why? What's the source of the pressure? It seems the evident source is the Pacifica City Council," Coss said.

Mayor Stanley Farber replied, "I can say that this council never has told Mr. (John) Regan where to take his dogcatcher." Regan is the humane society executive director.

"We simply know there's been a concentration of effort in the Pedro Point area," Coss said while also criticizing some "SPCA techniques."

Farber replied that he didn't want to get into a humane society personnel matter.

But it was acknowledged that the Pedro Point dog owners have their dander up over Clifford Lindquist, the animal control officer in the Pacifica area, whom they have charged with overzealousness in picking up known pets and entering private property to take away the dogs.

Former Mayor Nick Gust got a round of applause, however, when he suggested, "Keep your dogs leashed or locked up." Recalling his six years on the council, Gust said, "I tried to push the SPCA and it was no good. You should be glad they're here. If the officer goes on private property, I feel that's a problem for the individual."

In other business:

A $14,000 social services grant was approved by the council for Pyramid Alternatives, Inc., to help pay for treatment of alcoholics and alcohol abusers from Pacifica over the next fiscal year.

Pyramid, a nonprofit outpatient counseling service in the north county, is the only education, communication, counseling, outreach and long-range problem-solving organization of its kind in the state and has been "a success beyond our wildest dreams," Executive Director Neil F. Sullivan told the council.

Abandoned autos may sit on the street much longer in Pacifica now than they used to because of a recent court decision and a resulting new ordinance introduced by the council.

What it amounts to is that cars formerly towed away after 72 hours on a public street now must be left until the owner is notified in a manner prescribed by law and has appealed to a designated hearing officer if he so desires.

Jail Term in DC Shooting

Television engineer Alan May of Daly City has been sentenced to 90 days in county jail for the death of Dorris Anne Williams last July outside his home.

May, 35, was convicted of involuntary manslaughter last month by a San Mateo County jury. Sentencing Superior Court Judge Lyle R. Edson also instructed May to perform 150 hours of uncompensated public service after his jail term.

May was accused of firing a shot at a man he thought was an intruder and hitting Doris Anne Williams, 26, a KRON-TV secretary, killing her. The intruder and victim had gone to May's home with his former girlfriend so that she could remove her possessions.

He was trained in the maintenance and repair of engines for the Army's tracked and wheeled vehicles.

Papan Views Gloomy Economic Scene

Gov. Edmund G. Brown Jr. believes Californians need "a new spirit" to cope with the myriad problems being encountered in the economy today — not more money.

That's what Assembly Speaker Pro Tem Louis J. Papan told the North San Mateo County Council of Cities Thursday in South San Francisco.

Papan said the vast majority of legislators agree they must first tighten their own belts before selecting spending priorities. Once this is done, they must stick to them, Papan said.

The Assemblyman painted a gloomy picture of unemployment, housing and inflation in the state, noting California now ranks one point above the national unemployment average.

California soon will have one million persons out of work, Papan said.

Thousands are trooping each month to the steps of Capitol protesting some piece of legislation or demanding some new law be passed, Papan said.

Housing is another key to the state of the economy and Papan said the housing slump has a three-prong effect:

"First, thousands of Californians can't get adequate dwellings; second, builders lose contracts and workers don't have jobs; and third, there is a ripple effect throughout the general economy which touches us all," Papan said.

Papan's speech sparked verbal encounter between some elected officials attending the meeting when he mentioned one of the most controversial bills before the legislature — SB 275 extending collective bargaining rights to the more than one million state and local government employes.

"Opponents argued against giving public employes the right to strike. On the other hand, supporters say strikes are occurring now," Papan said.

He said new proposed legislation "will create a legal mechanism for resolving disputes before walkouts and lockouts happen."

But San Mateo Councilman John Condon asked Papan where he stood and how he would vote.

Another San Mateo Councilman, Jack Murray, argue that binding arbitration would take the matter of controlling public employes out of the hands of cities.

Murray warned Papan that if he backed this legislation "I won't support you."

Papan said public employes already walk off the job and "I recognize they have the power to strike."

Barney Spera, mayor of Millbrae and a labor leader, said everyone should "take a good look of what is happening in Australia where they have no strike laws."

Spera said Australia has more labor strikes than any other country in the world.

He said he felt passage of such a collective bargaining law would prevent similar strikes here.

DC Parking Lot Issue Is Tabled

Plans for a parking lot for some 250 cars in San Francisco and Daly City went before the San Francisco Planning Commission Thursday and were tabled for 30 days.

City Manager David Rowe and Mayor Victor Kyriakis of Daly City said they feel the 30-day postponement in making a decision on whether to grant the city a use permit to operate a parking lot only prolongs a forthcoming negative decision on the matter.

Daly City, in an effort to relieve congestion at the Bay Area Rapid Transit District station on John Daly Boulevard, has plodded back and forth to San Francisco for almost a year asking for approval to open a parking lot off St. Charles Avenue, less than a block from the station.

And for a year, while Daly City has paid some $1,200 monthly to the parking lot owners, San Francisco has procrastinated, Daly City officials claim.

Construction is due to start on a multi-level $6.5 million parking facility at the BART station within the year.

Some 300 cars will be displayed during construction.

Local officials fear they will glut the street for blocks around the station. There already is a heavy traffic problem in the area because of BART's limited parking.

One San Francisco resident at the planning commission meeting said building more garages is not the answer.

"Public Transit is the answer, and San Mateo should provide it," C. R. Arnold told the commission.

If the parking lot is built, it will only entice more commuters to park in the residential neighborhood, San Francisco Zoning Administrator R. Spencer Steele said.

"They (the commissioners) told us we should seek out other areas to park. One even suggested tearing up the median green belt on John Daly Boulevard and parking there. Another told us within three blocks was Marchbanks Park and we might use that for a parking lot," Rowe said.

It also was suggested by the commissioners that San Mateo expedite extending BART down the Peninsula "at least to the airport," Kyriakis said.

Sammy Davis At the Links

LOCAL NOTES:

One of our spies at Lake Merced tells us that when Sammy Davis, Jr. was performing recently in the area, he stopped by the links one day with his brand new gold plated, graphite shafted clubs, presented to him by Flip Wilson, and proceeded to shoot a 49 in seven holes, after which he strolled off the course, but not before awarding his caddy with $35 for the abbreviated round.

Not believing that anybody with gold plated clubs could be that bad, we checked other sources and discovered a local female high school teacher who shall remain anonymous, but who IS smaller than Davis, once played a round with him in Tahoe. She had been playing less than two years, but she still whipped him easily.

"It wasn't hard," she says. "He stunk. He hit all over the place."

But of course, he didn't have his gold plated clubs in those days.

Mike Gunning, Terra Nova PE teacher and one of Vic Rowan's assistants at San Francisco State during football season, is from the Los Angeles area and, naturally, a Dodger fan. One morning he was in the Terra Nova faculty lounge sucking on some coffee and perusing the Green Sheet, when he noticed that the Giants had drawn less than a thousand fans the night before.

"Geez," he remarked, shaking his head, "the Dodgers have more ticket takers than that."

A belated note that former Pacifican-San Brunan Keith Hernandez didn't make the starting lineup with St. Louis this year on his good looks and great glove. He was also the second leading Cardinal hitter in spring training with a .343, behind shortstop Ed Brinkman's .355.

Speaking of Hernandez, if Rich Morales hadn't retired from the Padres this year and Bob McClure, the Kansas City southpaw, hadn't broken a leg just before spring training, little Terra Nova High School would have had three alumni in the majors. McClure, of course, spent his entire prep career with the Tigers. Hernandez was at TN in his freshman and sophomore years, while Morales never actually played sports for Terra Nova, but graduated from there after having lavished his high school athletic heroics on Westmoor.

So you think you'd like to write a sports column and get letters from your readers? You know, letters filled with praise and interesting and constructive comments and analyses. Following is an excerpt from a local who shall remain anonymous, to protect him from the butterfly nets:

"How about this for a brilliant idea: a female wrestler by the name of EVA BRAWN? She could have a group of Storm Troopers escort her into the ring, the arena ringing with the sounds of a German brass band playing Deutschland Uber Alles. Then, after disrobing demurely, she turns to a huge picture of Adolf Hitler placed in her corner and gives him a Nazi salute, plus a kiss or two, in either order. A sensation, to be sure. . ."

We've almost totally ignored the American Basketball Association this year because, frankly, we're not much interested in it, and also because there is no ABA team in this territory.

Outstanding performances shouldn't go unheralded, though, even if they are played in a weaker league, and we were very impressed by several ABA players this past season.

It would be pretty hard not to be impressed with All Pro, MVP George McGinnis, a fourth year man with the Indiana Pacers. Big George played like a little man, having much the same kind of season enjoyed by Rick Barry this year. He led the ABA in shooting, averaging 29.7; was an astounding fourth in three-point field goal percentage, hitting the extra long ones like a sharp shooting guard for a 35.4; was fifth in rebounds at 14.2; third in assists with 6.2, and second in steals, with 2.6.

The great Dr. J., Julius Erving of New York, had another great year in his fourth season as a pro, also making the ABA All-Pro squad. He was runnerup to McGinnis in scoring at 27.8; sixth in three-point percentage with 33.3; eighth in rebounds with 10.8; seventh in assists, 5.5; fourth in blocked shots at 1.8; and fourth in steals, with 2.2. Not quite as singularly spectacular as last year, possibly, but in a way a better, more balanced season.

St. Louis rookie of the year, Marvin Barnes, whom we believe was a second team All Pro selection, also was quite a standout, despite his early season problems and brief one man strike. Barnes was fifth in scoring, 24.0; third in rebounds, 15.6; and sixth in blocked shots, 1.7.

But perhaps the most amazing individual performance, relatively speaking, was that of Moses Malone of Utah, the teenager who jumped into the pros right out of high school. The veritable baby was fifteenth in scoring at 18.7; third in two-point field goal percentage with .57.2; fourth in rebounds with 14.5, and tenth in blocked shots with 1.5.

RANDOM THOUGHTS:

We still say that baseball is the only of the so-called major American sports that hasn't changed. By that we mean that an old ballplayer from the early part of the century, if he could be exhumed and sat behind home plate, would still understand the game perfectly. Nothing would be a mystery to him.

We don't think the same could be said of an old football player from even the '40's who has been out of touch with the game. He would not understand totally what is happening on the field today; nor could a basketball player from the '30's.

When basketball wasn't a contact sport and everybody used two hands to shoot and never heard of a fast break, conceive of what it would be like to be out on the floor in these times.

But the old time baseball player, given a new heart and sturdy legs, we believe, could step right out onto a diamond today and perform with the modern generation. There are no new skills and very few new techniques in today's game.

Some people think that's what's wrong with baseball. We think that's what's right with it. It would be horrible to think that someday we might be put into a deep freeze, be brought back in the 22nd century, rush out to a baseball park to watch our favorite sport, and not know what in hell's going on.

The Dodgers have been winning with their second string. What's going to happen to the rest of the league when the regulars are back from their injuries?

Speaking of injuries, it's ironic that the Giants traded Tito Fuentes to the Padres mainly because they were afraid of his bad back, and that his trade replacement, Derrel Thomas, has now come up with a sore back while Tito's has healed its way into a standout season with the Padres.

FOOTNOTE:

Following is an item that appeared 15 years ago in the Sporting News:

"The San Francisco Giants will open the season at their new home, Candlestick Park. It is described as a 'dazzling diamond palace that will provide the ultimate in satisfaction for fans and players alike, a perfect place to watch or to play the game.'"

No comment.

Sixth Straight in NPL

Jefferson Nine Steals Win

With more dash than artistry, Jefferson High's baseball team continued its belated charge through the North Peninsula League ranks Friday, beating Oceana 8-6.

Jeff, which opened the season 1-3, has won six straight and is now only a game behind league leader El Camino. EC maintained its lead with an 8-7 win over Terra Nova. Half Moon Bay edged South San Francisco 2-0 and Westmoor downed Serramone 4-3.

Jeff trailed 6-5 going into the top of the fifth. The tying run scored on Mike Merlo's sacrifice fly. Then the fun started.

With two out, Dan O'Shea reached base, stole second and went to third on a wild pitch. Bil Mortola walked and stole second. With first base open and a 3-2 count on Ed Mixco, O'Shea managed to steal home for the go-ahead run.

Mixco got on base and stole second. Tony Sebastiani came to the plate and built up a 3-2 count. Guess what happened next? Right — Mortola stole home.

Jeff's Ray Martelle, the NPL batting leader, went two for three and drove in four runs. He's reached base 29 times in 37 trips to the plate. Pitcher Ron Sylvia relieved in the first and went the rest of the way for his third win against no losses.

Half Moon Bay scored both its runs in the fourth. Rich Hollon and Tom Chavez walked. Mike Dale and Tim Mueller followed with RBI singles. HMB pitcher Nate Burr went the distance and lowered his ERA, which had tattened to a grand 0.92 in his last appearance.

El Camino pitcher Gene Montgomery picked up his fourth win in a strange outing — he struck out 10 and walked 10 in 5-1/3 innings. He had relief help from Bob Humphrey.

TN made thiggs interesting by chasing walks with home runs. Bob Hinch hit a grand slam in the fifth, and Rich Stratfull parked a homer in the sixth. El Camino's John Rico hit a two-run homer in the fifth; it was his fourth HR of the NPL campaign.

Westmoor's Corey Price certainly made his presence felt. He went three for three, stole three bases, drove in four runs and threw out the tying run at the plate in the bottom of the seventh.

Serramonte Spikes Win Invitational

WOODLAND — Serramonte High's track team had to struggle with wet, cold, windy conditions, but still managed to win the Woodland Invitational Saturday night.

The Regents rarely came close to their best times under those conditions, but scored 74 points to win large school division — though Serramonte was eligible to compete in the small school division.

Serramonte did tie its season best time in winning the 440 relay. The quartet of Mitchell Lockett, Alvin Dilles, Tony Hicks and Ron Kennedy clocked 42.5.

Kennedy tied a meet record in the high hurdles, winning in 14.3. Tony Hicks won the low hurdles in 38.9. Kennedy picked up another win in the quarter.

Mills' Steve Vasquez won the long jump ahead of Serramonte's Gerald Batton. Mills pole vaulter Bob Dillard, working with a new pole, finished second at 13-6.

Hartnell Nips Skyline

SALINAS — For the second straight year Skyline College has to be content with second place in the Coast Conference track and field championships. But the Trojans can still prove themselves the best small division team in the State this week.

Although the Trojans haven't lost a dual meet to anyone since joining the Coast a year ago, Hartnell was again able to take advantage of the championship meet-type scoring with several come-through performances for its ninth consecutive league track title.

For example Skyline's Ike Mitsved, the league's only NorCal-ranked hurdler, won both hurdle races handily, in 14.4 and 56.7, for 20 points. But Hartnell tallied 33 points in the same two events by taking three of the remaining five places in each event.

Hartnell wound-up with 153 points. Skyline with 131.

Menlo placed fifth in the seven-team field with 23 points. But the top Oak runner, 4:15.5 miler John Routh (the Hartnell track record holder), had to drop out of the mile with an apparent stress fracture in his foot and thereby failed to qualify for future competition this season.

Top two placers in each event will participate in the State (invitational) small college championships Friday night at Porterville.—Skyline, Hartnell, and host Porterville are the favorites.

COAST NOTES: Skyline dominated the Coast track action with Ray Watts, Andy ... and the 440 in a school record ... g 49.8 while Brian Pierce took ... 880 in 1:56.2. Defending champ Tony Fotinos of Skyline settled for second ... in 4:21.7. To Monterey's Richard Barraza (4:17.9), but failed to place in the eight, where he's gone 1:58.5 this year. Ike Mitsvedra of Skyline took ... in 1:59.4.

Hartnell did not win an individual event on the track — just the 440 relay in 42.2 to Skyline's second place 43.3.

Skyline suffered what proved to be a death blow when the league's No. 2 sprinter, Bob Fontana, was unable to run on an injured leg. The Trojans scored only four sprint points.

Skyline's one field victory was Steve Serrano's unexpected 14-0 triumph in the pole vault. Trojan shot putter Gerald Schrum placed second with a 49-0 personal best.

Menlo's top placers were Andy Maddura second in the 100 to Monterey's Josh Carter, both in 10.0, and high jumper Rob Jones, second to Ohlone's Tom Pizarro, although both cleared 6-4. Skyline's Charlie Ford high jumped 6-2 for third.

Capuchino Orchestra, Choir Concerts Slated

The Capuchino High School orchestra and choir, under the direction of Harry Spencer, will present a 25th Anniversary concert, "Thanks for the Memories," May 16-17.

This will be a salute to all the musicals Cap has presented and to the talent in Cap's music department.

The soloists will be Ken Fang (Mendelssohn's Violin Concerto); Bob Gonnella (Greig's Piano Concerto from "Song of Norway"); Robert Dowcett (Mozart's Horn Concerto No. 1); Jean Huang, recently from Taiwan, (Scherzo of the Piano Concerto Symphonique by Litolff); Don Spencer playing "Concerto No. 1 for Piano." All of these compositions require not only a talented soloist, but also a competent orchestra.

Wagner's "March of the Meistersinger" and Stravinsky's "Firebird Suite" (Danse Infernale, Berceuse and Finale) will be performed by the Cap orchestra.

Cap's choir will present contemporary musical selections from "Godspell" (Tish Diaz at the piano and Bob Bush on guitar). The Choir and Orchestra will combine to highlight all of the past musical shows: "1954, "Pirates of Penzance"; 1960, "Song of Norway"; 1962, "Brigadoon"; 1964, "Guys and Dolls"; 1966, "Music Man"; 1968, "Oklahoma"; 1970, "Finian's Rainbow"; 1972, "Hello Dolly"; 1974, "South Pacific" and in the Summer of 1974, "Damn Yankees".

Tickets — $1 for adults, 50 cents for students, are available from members of Cap's orchestra and choir or at the box office on the performing nights.

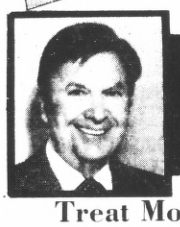
REMEMBER MOTHER ON HER DAY

SUNDAY, MAY 11



BRIGHT LIGHTS BY LLOYD JOHNSON

Treat Mother to Gourmet Dining

It would be hard to imagine a more perfect setting for Mother's Day dining than Lehr's Greenhouse in San Francisco. It's a garden in full bloom, filled with beautiful flowers, plants and towering banana palm trees.

A money-saving dinner special, which was recently introduced at the Shirt Tail in Palo Alto in the form of complete dinners for $3.95, has caught on with bargain-conscious diners. Served Mondays through Saturdays from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m., only. The regular dinner menu is also available.

Vince Licata will shutter his Vince's Italian and Seafood restaurant on Mother's Day. The whole crew will be back in action the following Monday.

Mother is sure to enjoy her day at Scotty Campbell's in Redwood City. Dinner service from 3 p.m. The old Scottish castle atmosphere will be a treat for the entire family.

One of the nicest tributes you can pay mom on Mother's Day is to let master chef Salvatore Patane at The Fisherman in Burlingame do the cooking. Besides festive Mother's Day dinners, the regular seafood and Italian menu will also be available from noon on.

The lavish costumes in Finocchio's current revue "Spotlight on Show Business," are applause-getters. A cast of 14 all-star female impersonators is showcased nightly, Wednesdays through Sundays.

Why not take mother to Lake Tahoe for Mother's Day and enjoy the refund advantages provided by the Nevada Tours' packages. Spend an exciting evening dining at Harrah's Tahoe Harvey's Wagon Wheel or Del Webb's Sahara Tahoe. Mother will have fun working out on the nickel slot machines and you can "blow your mind" at the dice table.

Nick Gust has a special Mother's Day program on the agenda at his three Rockaway Beach restaurants. Nick's, Captain Charles, and The Moonraker, which overlook the Pacific Ocean.

A large selection of gourmet sandwiches are listed on the menu at CJ's Eatery, located in the new Marshall Building in San Mateo. Home made gourmet soups are also a specialty.

The Villa Coffee House, a dining tradition for over 16 years, is planning something special for Mother's Day, with dinner service starting at 2 p.m.

Pernod is a toothsome finale to a gourmet steak dinner in the elegant Wellington Room of Phil Lehr's Steakery in downtown San Francisco. It's prepared to order at tableside by your waiter, and served flambe' in a silver stirrup cup.

Another new restaurant debuts on the Peninsula: Carlo Caminiti, Andy Pelligrini and Adrian Giannini are celebrating the grand opening of their La Parmigiana, located on Veterans Blvd. in Redwood City.

Several management changes have taken place at The Castaway, at Coyote Point. The new general manager is Peter Bovenberg, who most recently was managing San Jose's 94th Aero Squadron. Assisting is Rick Abinante'. Wiltred "Chuck" Pierce is the newly appointed executive chef.

Every day is like Mother's Day at Romano's Italian restaurant, where Enricketta Romano (she's the mother of Enrico) oversees the kitchen activities at this Rockaway Beach restaurant.

The Peninsula's two Pizza Huts, with locations in Millbrae and San Carlos, are offering one small pizza free with the purchase of one large pizza when you present the coupon appearing in "Bright Lights." Offer valid through May 31.

For superior Chinese cuisine and Deem Sum pastries, try the Superior Palace restaurant in San Francisco. Lunch, dinner and cocktails.

Public Safety Building Petition Filed

A petition that could halt proceedings toward construction of a new South San Francisco public safety complex was filed about 15 minutes before a legal deadline of midnight Friday and may force another election on the issue.

Petition sheets bearing an estimated 1,500 to 1,600 names were turned over to City Clerk Art Rodondi, who with some of his staff had opened his office at 9 p.m. especially to receive the documents from the Vigilant Voters Group.

VVG President Ted Pretzer and some of his helpers presented the petition, which required some 1,500 valid signatures to force an election.

Rodondi said the names now must be checked against eligible voter lists at the county clerk's office for validity.

The clerk's office normally closes at 5 p.m., but a legal technicality gave the petitioners until midnight.

Pretzer said he thought he had an adequate number of signatures but "We had to scramble to get as many as we did," including some on Friday night.

He said also that Rodondi had questioned some signatures because the signing date space had ditto marks instead of the date written in. Rodondi said legality of the procedure would have to be determined by the county clerk.

The City Council last Wednesday night accepted a low bid of $3,357,234 to build the complex at Grand and Chestnut Avenues, in which the main fire station, police station and communications center would be housed. Total cost, with architectural and engineering fees, administrative costs and contingencies, could be $3,838,000, still below the architect's construction cost estimate of $3.9 million.

Rodondi said he didn't know how long it would take to check the names on the petition, but that since it was Edward Alario, said Monday he thought some of the petition signers had been misled. Should the petition be declared valid the city would have to call another election on the matter, which would mean rejecting what Alario filed the legal effect now is to "hold things up."

The City Council may have something to say about the petition at its regular meeting at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the West Orange Avenue Library.

The public safety complex was offered as a ballot measure last November and missed the required two-thirds majority by around 100 votes. On April 1 the council officially formed the South San Francisco Public Facilities Corporation, a public corporation with authority to issue the bonds and lease the facility to the city at a cost equal to the bond redemption rate. This type of financing is known as "lease-back."

But VVG President Ted Pretzer, 382 Holly Ave., South San Francisco, has claimed that the voters have expressed their will and now are being by-passed. The VVG had 30 days to appeal the council's April 1 action.

An angry City Manager considered a very favorable low bid and trying again later if the voters approved. All 10 bids came in within $200,000 of each other, Alario said, adding "It was time to bid. The time was in our favor because the builders need work." If the city has to wait it will be too late and much more costly because of inflation and because builders will have committed themselves to other work during the summer, Alario went on.

The cost could go up by $500,000 to $1 million after a delay like this, Alario said.

A special election probably would have to be called for this summer or fall by law which could set construction back several months.

New JESD Assistant Superintendent Picked

Jerry Houseman, an administrator with the Oak Grove School District in San Jose, was appointed an assistant superintendent in the Jefferson Elementary School District Wednesday night.

Houseman will replace Dr. Vinton Stratton who is retiring at the end of the school year.

Trustees voted unanimously in Daly City to offer Houseman a four-year contract at $29,000 annually, plus $300 for holding a doctorate.

Houseman spent 10 years with the Folsom-Cordova District and was principal of a "demonstration school" in Davis, prior to moving to the Oak Grove District more than a year ago.

The board of trustees also appointed Tom Pollicita principal of Colma Intermediate School to replace Joel Franz, who will shift to Fernando Rivera Intermediate School.

Pollicita has been dean of students at Colma for several years.

The appointments were challenged by James Keyes, president of the Daly City chapter of the NAACP, and Julian Castellan, active member of senior citizens and Spanish-American groups.

Both said the district should have been more overt in its attempt to hire minorities.

Dan Dailey Fined $150

Movie and television actor Dan Dailey was fined $150 in Northern District Municipal Court April for his part in an altercation with an airline passenger agent at San Francisco International Airport March 22.

Dailey didn't appear in the South San Francisco court, but was represented by attorney G. Robert Kane of San Mateo.

The actor had been arrested and jailed after he allegedly had attacked a PSA passenger service supervisor who had refused to allow Dailey to board a plane for Los Angeles because he believed Dailey was intoxicated.

Sheriff's deputies made the arrest after Dailey reportedly threatened to kill the airline agent. Dailey had entered a not guilty plea in court last month to assault and battery charges and to being intoxicated.
